Make-up Designory (MUD) was founded by a team of professional make-up artisans who shared a vision to provide excellence in make-up education to aspiring and working artists. Today, both our Los Angeles and New York campuses are accredited by the Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC). Our campuses at industry hubs in Los Angeles and New York offer comprehensive programs and individual courses that provide a rigorous foundation in make-up for the entertainment, fashion and retail industries. Whether you're looking to start from scratch or hoping to build your professional skills, our faculty share the intricacies of the craft in a vibrant learning environment.
